Unique Needs

At Ecclesiastical Insurance, we recognize that few professions require more compassion and sensitivity than funeral services. As grieving families and loved ones count on your services during this painful time, you and your staff must attend to a myriad of important duties – offering comfort to the bereaved, providing caskets and memorial accessories, directing funeral services, organizing reception services, and more.

Having a proven track record as the leading insurer of faith communities in Canada, we have a unique appreciation of the risks you face every day. Our goal is to help ensure the safety of your staff, the customers you serve, visitors who attend funeral services, as well as your property and assets.

As your needs evolve, we will work with you and your broker to ensure that your organization maintains adequate protection and suitable coverages.

We understand that you have invested a great deal in building your business and your reputation and we are ready to provide customized insurance solutions that will help you protect both.

Funeral Services Protect is designed to provide you with peace of mind at an affordable cost.
